Quarterly Children's System of Care Performance Outcome Measure Report

Quarter 1 / Fiscal Year 2008

State of Arizona
Department of Health Services
Division of Behavioral Health Services
150 North 18th Avenue, Suite 240
Phoenix, Arizona 85007

Executive Summary

The Quarterly Children's System of Care Performance Outcome Measure Report highlights the Children's System of Care performance by presenting quarter 1 FY2008 data from the Functional Outcome Measures, MHSIP YSS-F Survey, and Child and Family Team evaluation method. Further, it highlights progress made in regards to the Jason K Settlement.

Functional Outcomes data supports the use of Child and Family Teams (CFT) in gaining positive outcomes. All but one functional area for both the 0 – 4 and 5 – 17 age groups yielded a higher rate of positive outcomes in those children being served by a CFT as compared to children not being served by a CFT. The exception was found in the 5 – 17 age group in the category Lives with Family; however there was only a <1% difference between the two populations. Positive outcomes were found in the same age group in the functional areas of Achieving Success in School and Increased Stability; the similar areas in the MHSIP YSS-F Survey of Appropriate Grade Level and Avoiding Delinquency also garnered positive outcomes. An area of improvement identified from the functional outcome measures was in the need to assist members and families in recognizing positive outcomes when they occur. In the 18 – <21 age group, 58% of members live at home with family and 27% live independently without support. Also, 85% of members have not been arrested and 77% have not used substances within the past month.

The Wraparound Fidelity Assessment System (WFAS) was implemented statewide to assess Provider fidelity to the Arizona Principles and Phases of the CFT. Quantitative results for the interview portion of the WFAS were obtained with the majority of Providers scoring above the minimum performance standard of 65%. Areas in need of the most improvement as identified by the results were natural supports for families, service planning, and transitioning.

The Child and Adolescent Service Intensity Instrument (CASII) made progress toward statewide implementation. ADHS/DBHS executed a contract with the Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry to secure trainings and user's manuals on the proper use of the CASII. Training and implementation goals related to the CASII were incorporated into the ADHS/DBHS and T/RBHA Children's System of Care Plans.

Introduction

The Quarterly Children's System of Care Performance Outcome Measure Report presents the statewide performance in the Children's System by highlighting data obtained from the Functional Outcomes, MHSIP YSS-F Survey, and WFAS evaluation tool. The former two analyze children's response to treatment by assessing functional successes; the latter analyzes the Providers' fidelity to the Arizona 12 Core Principles. Further, information is provided to highlight progress made in regards to the Jason K Settlement.

Functional Outcomes

Functional Outcome measures are obtained monthly from the Client Information System (CIS) and capture success rates for children in core functional areas as well as provide a comparison of success rates using the variable of whether or not the child was served by a Child and Family Team (CFT). In addition, the Mental Health Services Administration's Mental Health Statistics Improvement Program, Youth Services Survey for Families (MHSIP YSS-F) is a national survey that is administered annually to obtain feedback on members' and their families' perceptions of treatment and treatment outcomes.

ADHS/DBHS incorporated state added questions to the MHSIP YSS-F Survey to reflect the ADHS/DBHS Children's System of Care Plan Outcomes for members aged 5 – 17.

ADHS/DBHS, along with the T/RBHAs, revised and supplemented the state added questions incorporated into the 2007 MHSIP YSS-F Survey to more accurately mirror the Children's System of Care Plan Outcomes. Analysis of both the CIS Functional Outcomes and the MHSIP YSS-F Survey provides insight into Arizona's success in treatment outcomes for children and adolescents.

Attachment 1 depicts the CIS Functional Outcome measures for children ages 5 – 17 and ages 0 – 4 for quarter 1 FY08. As shown for both age groups, the outcomes for children served by a CFT were consistently higher than for those children not being served under the CFT model. The one exception was in the functional area Lives with Family for the 5 – 17 age group. However, the difference was nominal; 85.9% of those served by a CFT live with family whereas 86.8% of children not being served by a CFT live with family. Within the same age group, notable differences were seen in the functional areas of Achieving Success in School and Increased Stability, with CFT service leading to higher outcomes of greater than 9% more than the children not being served by a CFT for both areas. The MHSIP YSS-F Survey yielded similar results in the Appropriate Grade Level and Avoiding Delinquency categories, with respective rates of 81% and 86% reporting positively in these areas, achieving above the established goal of 80% (Attachment 2). Although the CIS Functional Outcomes identified the positive successes as mentioned above, the MHSIP YSS-F Survey overall score for perception of treatment success was at 62%, which is below the minimum performance standard of 70%. Analysis of this variance between the two measures indicates a statewide need for improvement in assisting members and their families in identifying treatment successes, including documenting positive outcomes through the CFT process.

In the 0 – 4 age group the most notable difference was found in the functional area of Acceptable Emotional Regulation with a 21.2% higher outcome for the children served by a CFT. In the same age group, a 16.2% higher outcome in the Improving Family Stress Level measure was found for the children served by a CFT than those not served by a CFT. Overall, the results of these outcome measures show improvement in functional status for children served by a CFT; thus the ADHS/DBHS Children's System of Care Plan continues efforts to establish active CFTs for all children in the behavioral health system.

Attachment 3 depicts the functional outcome measures for the 18 – <21 age group. In the Employment category for SMI members, 12% are employed and 8% are students; for non-SMI members, 16% are employed and 15% are students. For Primary Residence, the majority (58%) of clients in this age group live at home with family, followed by 27% living independently without support. Of notable mention for the Primary Residence category, when compared to the National overall average as reported to CMHS, Arizona achieved a 6.2% higher rate for behavioral health recipients living in the community. The functional areas assessing rates of arrests and substance abuse also garnered positive results in that 85% of members ages 18 – <21 have not been arrested and 77% have not used substances within the past month.

Children's System of Care Practice Reviews

In quarter 1 FY08 the Children's System of Care Practice Review using the Wraparound Fidelity Assessment System (WFAS) was implemented. This evaluation method was adopted by ADHS/DBHS to replace the Child and Family Team (CFT) Fidelity Tool due to the national validation of the WFAS. The WFAS measures fidelity to the Arizona 12 Principles and to the 9 activities of the Child and Family Team. Providers are evaluated bi-annually on their performance with children and families who are deemed to require high intensity services. The definition of high intensity includes children who are currently in or on the verge of requiring an out of home placement and/or have multiple service agency involvement. The performance standards for the WFAS are:

- Minimum fidelity = 65% - 74%;
- Satisfactory fidelity = 75% - 84% and;
- High fidelity = 85% - 100%.

The WFAS tool consists of three measures:

- Wraparound Fidelity Index (WFI-4) CFT participant interviews conducted by the Family Agencies;
- Documentation Review Measure (DRM) and;
- Child and Family Team Observation Measure (TOM).

The WFI-4 data received from the pilot did not yield valid results due to errors in scoring the interviews. ADHS/DBHS remedied this by meeting with the Family Agency interviewers to review the scoring manual. The results for the statewide implementation of the WFI-4 yielded the following: in August, 3 out of 8 Providers fell below the minimum standard of 65% for overall fidelity and; 5 out 8 Providers achieved overall fidelity of 65% or higher, 2 of which achieved an overall fidelity rating of 75% or greater. September saw a similar trend with 3 out of 9 Providers falling below the minimum standard and; 6 out of 9 achieving a rating of 65% or greater, 2 of which achieved 75% or greater in overall fidelity. Three areas that consistently scored lower than others were the inclusion/development of natural supports for families and in the phases of service planning and transitioning. ADHS/DBHS made strides in creating a report card format that summarized the key components of the WFI-4 scores and enabled the Providers and RBHAs to readily identify areas for improvement (Attachment 4).

Qualitative reports from the DRM and TOM measures were compiled by the RBHAs highlighting the strengths and needed improvements in the documentation and Child and Family Team meetings. ADHS/DBHS continued to collaborate with the University of Washington to create a quantitative scoring method for these tools; however, one was not available to implement during this quarter.

The RBHAs hold monthly Provider feedback sessions to present the results of the WFAS; in addition to the Provider representatives and WFAS reviewers and interviewers, participants at these sessions include representatives from ADHS/DBHS quality management and/or Children's System of Care and Jason K Plaintiffs' Council. These sessions discuss the qualitative and quantitative results, address any barriers that were present during the evaluation process and identify performance improvement opportunities. The topics identified during the feedback sessions are brought back to the ADHS/DBHS Children's System of Care Quality Management Committee to be incorporated into system improvement. In addition, the RBHAs incorporate the performance improvement activities generated from the WFAS results into their quarterly Performance Improvement submissions to ADHS/DBHS.

Jason K Settlement Implementation Strategies and Barriers

Full implementation of the Jason K (JK) Settlement continues to be a priority for ADHS/DBHS. Currently bi-monthly meetings occur with representation from JK Plaintiffs' Council, ADHS/DBHS and AHCCCS. At these meetings, ADHS/DBHS reviews the progress that is being made on the Children's System of Care Plan and other important priorities identified by Plaintiffs' Council. The new Children's System of Care Plan for 11/01/07 through 10/31/08 (Attachment 5) has been shared with Plaintiffs' Council and will be the focus for the next year. There are no contested issues at the current time in regard to the Settlement Agreement.

ADHS/DBHS meets regularly with the family members in the Family Advisory Committee to obtain feedback on implementation strategies for the Children's System of Care Plan and other quality management issues. In addition, ADHS/DBHS participates in the Practice Review Steering Committee and GSA Task Force meetings to discuss implementation and address barriers of the WFAS evaluation tool. These committees report back to the Children's System Quality Management Committee to incorporate feedback into the system.

ADHS/DBHS progressed in its implementation of the Child and Adolescent Service Intensity Instrument (CASII). This instrument will be used in conjunction with CFTs for assessing the level of service intensity for children and adolescents, as well as provide treatment outcome measures through reassessment every 6 months and at disenrollment. The dimensions of the instrument will replace the CIS functional outcomes once statewide implementation has occurred. The dimensions are:

- Risk of Harm
- Functional Status
- Co-occurring Conditions
- Recovery Environment
 - Scale A: Environmental Stressors
 - Scale B: Environmental Supports
- Resiliency and/or Response to Treatment
- Involvement in Services
 - Scale A: Child/adolescent Involvement
 - Scale B: Parental/familial Involvement

During quarter 1, a contract was executed with the Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, the developer of the CASII, for staff trainings and the purchase of user's manuals for proper use of the instrument. Training dates for the T/RBHAs were scheduled and ADHS/DBHS worked with the T/RBHAs to incorporate training and implementation goals of the CASII into the 2008 Children's System of Care plans. ADHS/DBHS initiated work to incorporate the CASII dimensions into the CIS demographic fields to capture outcomes. In addition, work began to draft a CASII Protocol and CFT Practice Protocol to incorporate the use of the CASII.

The use of the CASII will assist the WFAS evaluations by providing an objective identification of children with high intensity needs. The need for adapting the current WFAS tools to evaluate the CFT practice for children with low intensity needs was identified and ADHS/DBHS began collaboration with the University of Washington to serve this end.

Conclusion

Data supports the use of Child and Family Teams for obtaining positive outcomes. Therefore, ADHS/DBHS continues to focus on moving the system toward the use of CFTs for all children receiving behavioral health services. The WFAS statewide implementation began to evaluate fidelity to the CFT core principles and ADHS/DBHS continues to work with the Family Agencies and T/RBHAs to address barriers to this process. Improvement efforts for the WFAS included collaborating with the University of Washington to develop quantitative measures for the Document Review Measure and Team Observation Measure. Further, ADHS/DBHS made progress in implementing the CASII to assist the CFT process in identifying appropriate service intensity for children and adolescents. The statewide use of this instrument will replace the current functional outcome measures and provide an objective identification of children and adolescents with high intensity needs. The results of these assessments will assist in identifying necessary network growth to meet the needs of Arizona's children and adolescents.
